

Every year, my family and I celebrate the New Year. In the Jewish tradition, people eat a head of a fish as a symbol that they will be at the top and not at the bottom. People also eat apples with honey to have a sweet year.

On Rosh Hashanah people exchange greetings each other, such as: "I hope you will have a happy new year!" Every year, on Rosh Hashanah, the Jews go to the synagogues and pray for peace and safety to our country. In the synagogues we listen to the sound of the "shofar". In Rosh Hashanah we begin the Jewish calendar.

May the New Year bring peace and happiness!!

Rosh Hashanah is a traditional holiday that opens the Jewish New Year. In Hebrew, Rosh Hashanah means "Head of the Year". This is a wonderful holiday. We eat apple dipped in honey, pomegranates and challah. All these food products are sweet and symbolize our wish for a sweet new year. I wish also that the New Year will be full of love, happiness and peace. I celebrate the holiday in the Dead Sea where we would celebrate my father's birthday too.
